Elderly man dies, woman in critical condition after blaze

Fatal fire. Damages at the home are pegged at more than $200,000

SHANE GIBSON
shane.gibson@metronews.ca

An elderly man is dead and a woman is fighting for her life in hospital after fire ripped through a Fort Rouge area home early Thursday.

Patrolling police officers noticed the "strong smell of acrid smoke" coming from the home at 547 Hethrington Ave. around 2:50 a.m.

Although the officers ran into the burning home, intense heat and smoke forced them out.

When firefighters arrived they found an elderly man and a 58-year-old woman inside the home, and both were taken to hospital in critical condition.

The man has since died from his injuries.

The person who died has not been identified by police. However, neighbour Nettie Wagner identified the couple who live there as Bert and Joanne Parry, and said Bert was over 80 years old.

Another neighbour told Metro the couple's adult daughter also lives at the home. While early reports said the woman in critical condition was the man's wife — who neighbours said suffers from Alzheimer's — police could not confirm the relationship between the injured woman and the deceased man.

Wagner, who has lived next door to the couple since 1963, said Bert had grown up in the home and knew all about the neighbourhood's history. She said Joanne was "very good at painting ... she was very artistic" and Bert was a talented woodworker.

"He was a very helpful person, if you needed help, you know, you could just go to him," said Wagner, who said he would drive her to appointments. "He was always willing to help."

"If you needed something fixed that he could fix he would fix it for you."

Members of the Arson Strike Force are investigating the blaze, and a cause has yet to be determined.

Warranties to be made mandatory for new homes, condos in Manitoba

Healthy Living Minister Jim Rondeau announces on Thursday that new homes and condos will need to have warranty protection. CHRISD.CA

The province introduced a plan Thursday that would make warranties for all new homes and condominiums built in Manitoba mandatory.

Healthy Living, Seniors and Consumer Affairs Minister Jim Rondeau touted the idea as a way of protecting the "most important investments" made by most consumers.

"Our plan will help protect Manitobans buying a new home with better, extended warranty protection against construction-related defects," said Rondeau in a release.

Under the new rules, new home builders will be required to secure a warranty on new houses and condo properties with a third-party warranty provider.

The minimum warranty coverage would be higher than what is currently offered under existing voluntary home warranty programs.

The news release said the Manitoba Home Builder's Association supports the plan.

"This move will promote professional building methods and put everyone on equal footing," said Mike Moore, president of the association. "It's a positive step for builders and new home buyers alike."

The new protections will cover any defects in labour, materials and design in homes and condos for one year, major systems like electrical and plumbing and violations in code that result in health or safety risks or material damage for two years, and defects in the building envelope — including water penetration for two-years — and structural defects for seven years. Inquiry. Social worker says she 'probably could' have done more to help girl

A Manitoba social worker says she "probably could" have done more to check on a girl whose death is now the subject of a public inquiry, but the worker also says she feared that being too aggressive would backfire.

Laura Forrest took on Phoenix Sinclair's case in February 2003, when the toddler was brought to hospital with an infection from an object that had been lodged in her nose for three months. The hospital reported the matter as a probable case of neglect.

Forrest told the inquiry on Thursday that she went to the girl's home and was met by her father, Steve Sinclair, who said Phoenix was being cared for by a family friend. Forrest said she went back to the home a few times over the next four months, always during the daytime, but there was no answer at the door.

Under cross-examination, Forrest said she could have taken other steps such as phoning other relatives, but didn't.

"I probably could have done a few other things. I didn't at that time," Forrest said.

"I also don't know what else was going on for me with other families."

"Did you ever think of going there in the evening?" asked Jeff Gindin, the lawyer for Steve Sinclair.

"I did not, no," Forrest replied.

"I'd left cards in the door. He knew I was trying to contact him."

Phoenix was seized by child-welfare workers several times and returned to her mother, Samantha Kematch, a final time in 2004 — the year before she was beaten to death by Kematch and her boyfriend.

Tree talk. City committee to look at new strategy to battle Dutch Elm Disease

A new, enhanced strategy to deal with Dutch Elm disease will be considered by a City of Winnipeg committee.

The city, which has been recognized as a leader in Dutch Elm Disease (DED) management in North America for over 37 years, is looking at doubling the annual budget allocated to slow the loss of American elms.

"Winnipeg's elm canopy is absolutely worth protecting," said Mayor Sam Katz in a press release.

"This proposal calls upon the City of Winnipeg and the Province of Manitoba to work together to significantly reduce the incidence of DED and confirm the value Winnipeggers place on our urban forest."

Manitoba spend about $3.7 million over the next five years to battle Dutch Elm disease. However, the city said implementation of this strategy is "conditional on matching funding" from the province.

The report will be considered at the infrastructure renewal and public works committee meeting on Monday.

Winnipeg is believed to have the largest urban American elm population in any city in North America.

Brain surgeon's invention 'simple'

Keeping things organized. Winnipeg doctor's device gets rid of tangled IV lines

shane.gibson@metronews.ca

A medical device invented in Winnipeg that could make the use of IVs much easier for medical professionals around the world is so simple it took a brain surgeon to come up with the idea.

The Multiple IV Line Organizer, or MiLO for short, is a flexible two-inch piece of plastic with four grooves that each fit one IV, keeping multiple lines separate and organized when patients are moved.

"It's a very simple design, I don't know why nobody has come up with it," explained Dr. Thomas Mammen, an interventional neuroradiologist working at the Health Science Centre who came up with the idea after tangled IV lines gave him a headache.

"I do studies of the brain vessels ... and when (patients) come they often have a lot of IV lines — sometimes ten or more.

"It's difficult to have 10 lines that are freely floating, they get caught, intertwined and tangled ... it can take a good five to ten minutes to separate."

His solution was so simple that Mammen didn't consider marketing the idea after he made his first MiLO about a year and a half ago, but began using the device with his own patients.

Then his colleagues began asking him where they could get MiLOs too.

"I was just doing something to make life easier ... I didn't have any intention of doing anything like this," explained Mammen.

"The idea to produce it came from my colleagues and nurses who work with me."

MiLO has since been patented in the United States, Canada and Europe and went to market this fall after being tested by colleagues at HSC.

Mammen has no intention of quitting his day job — he's one of just three interventional neuroradiologists working in the province — but hopes his device will improve patient care by making the job of doctors and nurses easier.

"It's very simple, but it can ease (caregiver) frustration, so they are less stressed and can do a better job," he said.

Singer-songwriter Xavier Rudd's album is for the birds

Weekend show.

Aussie artist to play the Burton Cummings Theatre on Saturday

JARED STORY

jaredstory@metronews.ca

For Australian singer-songwriter and one-man band Xavier Rudd, the bird is the word. His seventh studio album, Spirit Bird, is inspired by a strange encounter with a red-tailed black cockatoo during a trip to the Kimberley region of Western Australia.

"They're usually pretty flighty birds but these ones were right there and this one big old woman bird locked eyes with me and just stared through me for what seemed like a very long time," Rudd, who was in Kimberley protesting a proposed gas refinery in James Price Point, said.

"She started to creak and groan and I had this profound experience with visions of people and places and memories. They didn't even seem like my memories, it was all quite bizarre. That day I started the song Spirit Bird in the sand on the beach and the lyrics just poured out of me."

Rudd didn't finish the title track until two years later, while recording at a lakeside studio just north of Toronto. Oddly, the next day Rudd awoke to news that the Australian government had taken James Price Point and that police had moved in and removed the protestors and several of the area's residents.

A month later, Rudd returned to Kimberley and was again greeted by red-tailed black cockatoos. One dropped the feather that appears on the front cover of Spirit Bird.

The album also features samples of more than 25 Australian bird sounds, Rudd mixing the calls with his didgeridoo, drums, guitars and harmonica.

The Wooden Sky walk in someone else's shoes

Toronto's The Wooden Sky is fronted by Gavin Gardiner, far right, who grew up in Morden, Man. JUSTIN BROADBENT/HANDOUT

Toronto alt-country band The Wooden Sky practised empathy on their third studio album, Every Child a Daughter, Every Moon a Sun.

"You know when you're driving and you see another person driving past, you see them for a split second and I was trying to imagine what it would be like to be in their seat," said Gavin Gardiner, The Wooden Sky's vocalist, guitarist and principal songwriter.

"They have a whole life they're moving towards. Perhaps they're late for something or they just came from a birthday or maybe their mother just died. It's this whole idea of these independent universes that exist simultaneously. It's not a concept record, but it is a snapshot of a place I'm in right now, trying to see life through other people's lives and also give people a different perspective to see their life through."

To record Every Child a

Daughter, Every Moon a Sun, The Wooden Sky once again sought the perspective of producer and former Arcade Fire member Howard Bilerman, just as they did on 2009's If I Don't Come Home You'll Know I'm Gone. Speaking of standpoints, Gardiner and Co. channel Ritchie Valens on the '50s style number Take Me Out.

"As a kid I was obsessed with the movie La Bamba, it's the whole reason I got my first Proudly Canadian!

High Five! We know Winnipeggers love a bargain. They have also been waiting for IKEA to come to the city for decades. Therefore, we expect some lineups on Black Friday and next Wednesday, when IKEA Winnipeg opens its doors. Here are some ideas to keep yourselves entertained while you wait.

ELISHA DACEY
elisha.dacey@metronews.ca

1 Leave a message and see if it gets back

Telephone. You're standing in a line, why not use it to your advantage? Play this classic kids game with the folks around you. Suggested sentence to whisper in your neighbour's ear: "Winnipeggers waiting for a while get wiggly." See if that sentence makes it to the back of the line intact.

2 Let your inner pantomime shine

Charades. One word. Sounds like ... fun. Just don't get all rambunctious and lose your place in line.

things to do while standing in a Black Friday line

B-I-N-G-O

Car Bingo. The game your dad used to make you play on road trips can also be done from a lineup. First person to spot a purple Volkswagen Rabbit goes to the head of the line!

5 Make your own lineup

Start your own line. Hate lines? Start your own just to add to the general confusion. Please note: We do not officially endorse this move as it's highly likely someone will hit you in the back of a head with a snowball.

4 Feel that beat from the tambourine

ABBA sing-along. In honour of IKEA's (and Metro's!) Swedish roots, we suggest an ABBA sing-along. Suggestion: Dancing Queen. Everyone knows the chorus to that one.

Plans in place to welcome IKEA Winnipeg shoppers

One of the most anticipated store openings in Winnipeg retail history calls for almost-military planning and organization when it comes to security, traffic and an expected long lineup of eager customers waiting to get into the store come Wednesday morning.

But there's nothing to worry about, said Maegan Sheskey, spokesperson for IKEA Winnipeg.

"We have the best plans in place, and we have this entire time" to get ready, Sheskey said on Thursday during Metro's sneak peek at the store.

"The safety and the security of our co-workers and our customers in this building is our No. 1 priority," Sheskey said.

"We have really good traffic plans in place for the opening week, to make sure that we're doing everything we can to get customers, get them in a parking stall and get them in the store."

Those who are super-keen can start lining up outside IKEA at 12:01 a.m. on Wednesday, and Sheskey said there will be heaters to keep them warm, and porta-potties.

Also, the first 1,000 people in line receive a $75 gift card and an Allen key, of which there will be five golden keys. Those five will vie for a $5,000 gift card, with the rest getting a $1,000 card.

Maegan Sheskey, who relocated from Edmonton to take part in this much-anticipated store opening for the Swedish chain, said wherever she goes, including grocery stores, if a person sees her IKEA name tag, they stop her to chat.

"People see the IKEA logo and they get so excited," she said. "For us, as a company, it's extremely humbling ... I don't think anybody could have imagined this level of excitement."

IKEA CATALOGUE APP ALMOST AS SLICK AS THE STORE

APPY SHOPPING
Elisha Dacey
elisha.dacey@metronews.ca

When someone told me that IKEA had an app that lets you make a shopping list as you browse, I downloaded it immediately.

Unfortunately, their description wasn't entirely accurate, but it was close enough.

The app, which you will find if you search the iTunes app store for IKEA Canada, is basically a beefed-up catalogue, the same catalogue that landed on every Winnipegger's doorstep over the past few months. Like an ebook, you swipe through the pages to peruse the catalogue.

What's neat about it though, is the "show products" tab in the app.

The one thing I've never liked about catalogues is when they show you a room filled with their products, but name only one or two of the products in the picture.

If there's something that you like in the photo, you have to go through the rest of the pages to find it.

In the app, however, you can click on the "show products" tab on each page and, at the bottom, every single product on that page shows up.

You can click on the product, find out more details, and then save the product (or the page) to your "Favourites," effectively making a shopping list.

The app also boasts bonus content on some pages, including video and supplementary photos. I found the bonus content sometimes didn't respond to my touch on my iPad mini, prompting me to stab at the photos several times.

But it's a nice free app and a good alternative to lugging the catalogue around the store.

Pre-emptive smear. Tories target Trudeau as poll suggests growing favour Conservatives have launched their first concerted attack on Justin Trudeau — and a new poll may explain why.

The Canadian Press Harris-Decima survey suggests the Liberal leadership front-runner's popularity is not the fleeting celebrity phenomenon that skeptics had assumed.

It's actually increasing and has the potential to siphon off votes from all parties, including the Tories.

Forty-two per cent of respondents said they'd be certain or likely to vote Liberal in the next election if Trudeau was at the helm — enough to form a comfortable Liberal majority government.

The poll was released Thursday, just as the Conservatives pounced on a two-year-old television interview to accuse Trudeau of being anti-Alberta.

In the interview with the Tele-Quebec program Les francs-tireurs, Trudeau said: "Canada isn't doing well right now because it's Albertans who control our community and socio-democratic agenda. It doesn't work."

Trudeau's campaign swiftly issued a statement accusing the Tories of using "out-of-context statements made years ago in a long interview" to launch a desperate "smear campaign" aimed at reviving the faltering Conservative by-election campaign in Calgary Centre.

The resurrected Trudeau quotes piled on a gaffe a day earlier by Ottawa Liberal MP David McGuinty. He resigned his shadow cabinet post as natural resources critic after saying Alberta Tory MPs are "shills" for the oil industry and should go home.

Harper opts out of provincial gathering

Halifax. Prime minister's absence threatens to overshadow premiers' meeting on economy

Stephen Harper THE CANADIAN PRESS FILE

Canada's premiers are arriving in Halifax in the hopes of striking a common economic plan at a time of tepid growth and mounting debt.

But Prime Minister Stephen Harper's absence from the meeting, which begins Friday, threatens to derail that goal, a couple of them say.

"It's difficult for us to know how we can best blend our own planning in with the funding of the federal government if we don't know what their plans are," said Nova Scotia Premier

Darrell Dexter, who is hosting the meeting.

The idea for such a gathering came up during the last premiers' meeting in July, when they agreed to discuss how they could protect their provinces from a global economy in flux. That was before revised figures came out showing a higher federal deficit and growing concerns over the possibility of the U.S. economy going over its so-called fiscal cliff at the end of next month.

The premiers invited Harper, but he declined. His office has said he has met regularly with the provincial leaders and the economy remains his prime concern, but that response hasn't sat well with a few of them.

"I think we're all disappointed that we couldn't get an opportunity to meet with the prime minister and to build a strong plan for economic growth together," Ontario Premier Dalton McGuinty said earlier this week. "We'll see what we can do by way of a concerted effort."

Beker injects attitude into plus-size clothing

Retail. Fashion guru's capsule collection for Addition Elle aims to fill gap in market

Quoted

"There really has been a void in the (plus-size) market I think for clothes that just were sophisticated in a sense, but with a hip kind of maybe edge to them; like a kind of attitude we weren't seeing." Jeanne Beker

With a sister and childhood friend who are both plus-sized, the lament about a lack of stylish options for full-figured women was one Jeanne Beker has heard plenty.

"My whole life growing up I heard those kinds of complaints and the kinds of frustration that they were going through," the longtime fashion and media maven and Metro columnist said in an interview.

"Everything just seemed so 'missy,' or people were complaining about the kinds of prints that they were being offered, and they weren't being offered a lot of that same attitude that we saw in the regular-sized lines. Now, it's all coming together."

Beker will be putting her own sartorial stamp on fashions for fuller-figured women through a partnership with Addition Elle.

The style columnist and Fashion Television Channel host teamed up with the retailer on a 19-piece plus-size capsule collection. The collaboration will bring extended sizing of the Edit by Jeanne Beker line to Addition Elle stores starting next April.

Edit by Jeanne Beker launched at the Bay in 2010, a line she envisioned as essentials to be mixed and matched and serve as the "bare bones" of a woman's wardrobe.

Beker said about two seasons into the creation of Edit, they made a foray into the plus-size market. While some of the pieces "would just fly off the rack," she said others weren't resonating to the same degree.

"We started thinking: 'You know, what are we doing wrong?' because the regular-sized line is doing so well.... And what we realized was that some pieces just don't translate." THE CANADIAN PRESS

3 Quantum leap: Astronomers have discovered a new planet thought to be 13 times larger than Jupiter, and 2.5 times the mass of the sun. So my question is, how did we miss this? Thank you for making my fourth grade science teacher look like a putz.

4 Swift reaction: Apparently, Taylor Swift was not amused by jokes of her breakup at the CMAs, marking the point that comes for all celebrities when they begin taking themselves too seriously. Imagine joking publicly about a song based on her private relationship that, over the last three months, has been played more than the national anthem. Well, I never, ever, ever...

5 Love hurts. Last July in Florida, a 72-year-old husband was stabbed in the arm by his 27-year-old wife after accusing her of cheating (you don't say). Now separated, Brygida Scheffler told police she's seen her ex drive by her home, and believes he is stalking her. Maciej Nowicki says he did not "intentionally" follow her. He probably just forgot where he lived ... and that she stabbed him!

6 100th Grey Cup. The Toronto Argos play host to the Calgary Stampeders on Sunday, and people from coast to coast are pumped for this historic event. The game will feature performances by everyone from Burton Cummings and Gordon Lightfoot to Justin Bieber and Carly Rae Jepsen. The only drawback is that we'll have to hear Call Me Maybe one more freakin' time.

7 We Will Rock You. This week in 1975, rock band Queen was No. 1 in the U.K. with Bohemian Rhapsody. A promotional video was released, which could also be used to avoid performing the complex, studio-perfected harmonies. Musicologists call this the first music video ever. The song was No. 1 for nine weeks, and rose again in 1991 after singer Freddie Mercury died, becoming the first song to make No. 1 twice with one version. At almost six minutes long, record execs said it would never be a hit.

8 Best medicine. Living with illness is never fun, but laughing about it can't hurt. Well, maybe it can, but Julie Devaney risks it in her new book, My Leaky Body, and she is touring the country sharing her experiences in the most entertaining way. Her next stop is the Crohn's and Colitis symposium in Halifax on Sunday, followed by Vancouver, Winnipeg, Ottawa, Kingston and Montreal. For details, check out myleakybody.com.

Need a film to lighten the zombie experience? Try Shaun of the Dead HANDOUT

Reel Guys

CROUSE AND
MARK BRESLIN

Films to occupy in the zombie off-season

Bye, bye brain eaters. With The Walking Dead season drawing to an end, the Reel Guys offer some undead suggestions

Richard: Mark, several episodes from this season's Walking Dead were among the best television of the year. It owes a HUGE debt to George A. Romero's classic Night of the Living Dead, but I still watch even though it gives me weird dreams every Sunday night. To calm my jangled nerves, I've been checking out zombie comedies like Shaun of the Dead and Cemetery Man. Everyone knows Shaun, but Cemetery's weird story is worth a look. Are you a zombie fan?

Mark: Depends on the zombie, Richard. I didn't get a chance to catch up with the Walking Dead series because I was too busy watching the brainwashed terrorist zombies in Homeland. A different kind of zombie, to be sure, but zombies all the same. I think the faster the zombies move, the more I like the movie. Those slow-walking, arms-outstretched flesh eaters aren't that different than most of the clubbers I see at closing time on Saturday nights. I've never seen Cemetery Man, but it looks interesting. Thanks for the tip.

RC: The whole slow-moving zombies versus fast-moving zombies debate is an argument for the ages. I guess I'm a traditionalist. I like the Romero zombie, the bumbling undead who mindlessly and relentlessly keep hunting for braains.

Dawn of the Dead, I Walked with a Zombie and Lucio Fulci's Zombi are masterpieces of the slow shuffle. You might like the remake of Dawn of the Dead. Man those zombies can run!

MB: I did like that one, along with Zombieland, Dead Snow (Nazi zombies, what's not to like?), and the zombie comedy (zomcom?) Fido starring Billy Connolly as a kindly zombie. But the big question in all the zombie films is: How do you get away from a zombie? Well, it seems that the meat that tastes closest to human flesh is pig! So I say, when confronted with a pack of zombies, let loose the porkers!

RC: Good advice. I'd add another zombie apocalypse tip I picked up from the movie Zombieland. You are at your most vulnerable while sitting on the toilet, so hold it as long as you can. Also, having a machine gun where your leg used to be, à la Rose McGowan in Planet Terror, can be very useful.

As The Walking Dead shambles toward its season finale in December, the Reel Guys suggest some infectious zombie movies to keep you entertained until the show lumbers back to air next year.

MB: I'm old school, Richard. I prefer having both legs to utilize the strategy of actually running away. And remember, when being chased by a zombie, you don't have to be the fastest runner, just faster than the guy behind you.

Twilight's mysterious Volturi provide plenty of spinoff potential. HANDOUT

Twilight's little piece of forever to get more time on the big screen?

Spinoff speculation.

The last film in the series has hit theatres, and the Twilight team won't dismiss rumours of another installment

The thing about vampires is they live forever.

And so now that the blockbuster Twilight saga has unleashed its sprawling finale, it's only fitting that speculation runs rampant about a spinoff that could keep the franchise undead for a little while longer.

Vampire-playing cast mates Daniel Cudmore and Charlie Bewley sure don't mind stirring up rumours with their own suggestions of life after Breaking Dawn — Part 2, and not surprisingly it involves more adventures for their mysterious side characters.

"You do wonder what will happen once this is all said and done," says Bewley, who plays Demetri, a member of an ancient ruling clan known as the Volturi.

"(There are) lots of willing people ready to start new subsidiaries of this saga, so that's just down to Lionsgate/Summit, (author) Stephenie Meyer and whoever's in the reckoning."

Last weekend's blockbuster debut came with whispers of possible ways for the supernatural series to live on. Screenwriter Melissa Rosenberg stirred the pot last month with a Facebook poll asking which vampire clan should get a spin-off and stars Robert Pattinson and Taylor Lautner each said they'd be open to a followup. Meyer, meanwhile, has reportedly said she's got plenty of story ideas but dismissed notions anything solid is in the works.

There's no question that an off-shoot could flesh out a supernatural world that ex-

Finally, critical praise

Twilight actor Charlie Bewley says it's gratifying to see the fifth Twilight film being embraced by solid critical reviews after earlier installments took widespread beatings. "It's not made for everyone," he says. "(But) it was made for the people who made the book series so cult and popular in the first place."

panded greatly in Breaking Dawn — Part 2.

The story, however, centres on lovestruck teen Bella Swan, played by Kristen Stewart, and her new life as a powerful vampire. Here, she's settling into domestic life with her century-old sire and husband Edward Cullen, played by Pattinson, and their magical half-vampire daughter, Renesmee.

There's more than One Direction for a documentary filmmaker to take

Morgan Spurlock. Oscar-nominated filmmaker sparks discussion with his new boy-band based project

EHRBAR
Metro World News in Hollywood

Oscar-nominated documentary filmmaker Morgan Spurlock (Super Size Me) announced last week that he would be directing a 3D concert film about the hit British boy band One Direction next September, with American Idol and the X Factor mastermind Simon Cowell producing.

"This is an incredible opportunity and an amazing moment in time for the band," Spurlock says in a statement. "To capture this journey and share it with audiences around the world will be an epic undertaking that I am proud to be a part of."

What's perhaps most surprising about the news, though, is how often the project has been referred to as a documentary in the press. While the trend has been to incorporate more and more backstage and off-stage footage into concert films — as with last year's Justin Bieber film Never Say Never and Katy Perry's Part of Me earlier this year — do they really qualify as documentaries? Or does the label have to do more

Morgan Spurlock has gone from documenting fast food to fodder for boy band fans. GETTY IMAGES with Spurlock's involvement. We decided to check in with some experts.

"We have seen over time that the perceived definition of documentary film has radically changed. The one constant is that these films have continued to follow factual information about the subject they are documenting and that is important," Justin Krumb, director of the doc Minds in the Water, tells Metro. "So in the case of Spurlock's new project, I believe this a true documentary, in that sense of the word, but one that falls into a new sub-category that relates to the phenomenon of reality TV/celebrity power. What's missing that I'd love to see is how these films bring about social change. How they alter our feeling to go out and change the world in a positive way or call attention to an issue that needs to be addressed."

Some of Spurlock's colleagues are willing to wait and see how he fares with his new singing and dancing subjects before passing judgment. "I know a bit about the project and from what I understand I'm not sure it's a concert film at all," says Lucy Walker, an Oscar nominee herself for Waste Land and the Tsunami and the Cherry Blossom. "Why not let him explore all aspects of filmmaking and give him the benefit of the doubt until we've seen it?"

Movie makeup transformations

Critics love it when hot actors get by on more than their looks.

scene@metronews.ca

The movie poster for Only God Forgives is an enigma.

It's a headshot of Ryan Gosling, yet one that no starstruck teen would ever swoon over. His mug appears beaten to a pulp and his left eye is as swollen shut as it would be after a round in the Octagon with Georges St-Pierre. Can you smell an Oscar?

Critics can't get enough of attractive thespians getting beaten with the ugly stick for art's sake.

It certainly worked for these actors who garnered big-time kudos for keeping their good looks on the down low.

Rooney Mara

Girl with the Dragon Tattoo

Pre GWTDT Rooney was a fresh-face with an alluring yet ubiquitous girl-next-door vibe.

Dodging Freddie Krueger in the Nightmare on Elm Street remake and tearing Mark Zuckerberg a new one in The Social Network as the future Facebook billionaire's soon to be ex-girlfriend, she didn't exactly spellbind.

Then Mara chopped off her locks and transformed from a generic Hollywood hottie into an androgynous goth hacker with bleached eyebrows and piercings aplenty — a brunette version of Die Antwoord's Yolandi Visser.

Suddenly we couldn't take our eyes off of her.

CASHING IN: NOMINATED FOR AN OSCAR, GOLDEN GLOBE AND MTV MOVIE AWARD.

Felicity Huffman

Transamerica

Huffman had already scored an Emmy for playing Lynette Scavo on Desperate Housewives, but to ensure she wasn't forever typecast as a harried suburban soccer mom, in Transamerica she reshuffled her image.

To conceal her gender as a woman playing a preoperative male-to-female transsexual, Huffman dons a dumpsy wig, unflattering lavender pantsuits and poorly applied make up.

Plus, she exposed the most talked about prosthetic penis in film since Mark Wahlberg's Boogie Nights reveal.

CASHING IN: NOMINATED FOR AN OSCAR, AND WON A GOLDEN GLOBE AND INDEPENDENT SPIRIT AWARD.

Charlize Theron

Monster

The sultry South African beauty was virtually unrecognizable as a butch John-murdering prostitute. She packed on thirty pounds, hid her dazzling green eyes behind dark colored contact lenses and wore yellowed false teeth for the role.

To complete the cruel transition from glamazon to frumpy real-life serial killer, Theron swapped her A-list complexion in for a pasty mottled mess and shaved her eyebrows.

She also let stylists make her normally lustrous hair look in desperate need of a salon.

CASHING IN: "ONE OF THE GREATEST PERFORMANCES IN THE HISTORY OF CINEMA," RAVED ROGER EBERT, AND HE WASN'T ALONE. THERON WON A MANTLE'S WORTH OF MOVIE STAR HARDWARE FOR MONSTER, INCLUDING AN OSCAR AND A GOLDEN GLOBE.

Brad Pitt

The Curious Case of Benjamin Button

How do you turn a perennial topper of world's sexiest man lists into a wrinkly octogenarian?

It took literally two years just to get the eye system component of the CGI wizardry that turned Pitt into a prune faced nursing home denizen working properly and nine months dedicated to writing the software articulation program for the computer generated tongue. For the first hour of the movie, the digitally rendered composite of an aged Pitt was seamlessly plopped onto various body actors.

While many reviewers bemoaned the three-hour run time of this majestic yarn as yawningly long, Pitt's performance as the age reversing titular character drew almost universal admiration.

CASHING IN: NOMINATED FOR AN OSCAR, SCREEN ACTORS GUILD, GOLDEN GLOBE, AND TEEN CHOICE AWARD.

Cameron Diaz

Being John Malkovich

Diaz's typically exquisite tresses have been a focal point in previous films.

In There's Something about Mary her hairstyle is front and centre in the infamous scene where Diaz mistakes a glob of Ben Stiller's nerve nullifying pre-date deposit for hair gel.

As John Cusack's homely animal hoarding wife in this surreal Spike Jonze black comedy, we once again can't help but stare at her bob — a straggly, frizzy mess of a do.

We wonder if the same smiling, leggy beauty we all know and love is really under that nest and dowdy clothes.

CASHING IN: NOMINATED FOR A GOLDEN GLOBE, TEEN CHOICE, AND SCREEN ACTORS GUILD AWARD.

Handsome, talented and one of TV Guide's Sexiest Stars as well as Us Weekly's Sexiest TV Men, actor James Tupper has worked hard to make a name for himself on the big and small screens. He also happens to be a genuinely nice guy, which will likely have moviegoers rooting for him and his character in director Gabriele Muccino's upcoming feature film Playing for Keeps. It was Muccino's name that first attracted Tupper to the project.

"Gabriele directed The Pursuit of Happyness, and what I liked about the film was that it didn't shy away from showing a young boy growing up in poverty and its effects on him," says the actor. "Gabriele dealt with that head-on, and although Will Smith's character is a big hero in the film, what he goes through is brutal.

"Playing for Keeps is a romantic comedy, but part of it deals with divorce and its impact on children. That fascinated me, so I auditioned for the film, but I thought it went terrible because I didn't hear anything for about three weeks. Then one day I got a call asking if I could fly to Shreveport, La., to shoot the movie and I said, 'Are you kidding? You bet,'" he enthuses.

In Playing for Keeps, Matt (Tupper) unknowingly becomes a romantic rival when his fiancé Stacie's (Jessica Biel) ex-husband George (Gerard Butler), a former sports star who has fallen on hard times, comes back into her life and starts coaching their son's soccer team.

"As is often the case, the heart goes where it wants and the story becomes about everyone trying to be an adult and struggling with adult issues," explains Tupper. "I had a wonderful time because Gabriele never told me to dumb it down. He said, 'You go for it and be the best you can be.' Everyone involved in the movie was a terrific artist, and that made for an amazing (work) experience."

On TV, Tupper recently played the recurring role of David Clarke in the hit series Revenge. Currently, the actor is shooting executive producer Jerry Bruckheimer's new pilot, Secret Lives of Husband and Wives.

"It's the story of these suburban couples who are living seemingly normal lives, but then a surprising and violent event shakes up their world," he says. "Everyone isn't quite who they appear to be and I'm hoping that audiences will enjoy finding out what's going on with these characters."

Community. Chevy Chase leaves popular sitcom before season ends

Chevy Chase is out on Community. GETTY IMAGES

The NBC series Community will finish the season without Chevy Chase.

Sony Pictures Television said Wednesday that the actor is leaving the sitcom by mutual agreement with producers.

His immediate departure means he won't be included in the last episode or two of the show's 13-episode season, which is still in production.

Chase had a rocky tenure playing a bored and wealthy man who enrolls in community college. The actor publicly expressed unhappiness at working on a sitcom and feuded last year with the show's creator and former executive producer, Dan Harmon. The fourth-season premiere of Community is Feb. 7, when it makes a delayed return to the Thursday time slot. The show's ensemble cast includes Joel McHale and Donald Glover.

Jimi Hendrix's new experience

A new Jimi Hendrix album is coming March 5.

The musician's website says People, Hell and Angels contains 12 previously unreleased tracks recorded in 1968 and '69.

Rolling Stone revealed the album cover on its website Wednesday.

Hendrix recorded the songs apart from the Jimi Hendrix Experience as he considered new, experimental directions for his followup to Electric Ladyland.

He plays keyboards, percussion and a second guitar on the album.

Big Bang's Mayim Bialik announces divorce from Michael Stone

Mayim Bialik and husband Michael Stone are divorcing after nine years of marriage and two children, the actress announced in a blog post on parenting site Kveller this week. "After much consideration and soul-searching, Michael and I have arrived at the decision to divorce due to 'irreconcilable differences,'" the Blossom and Big Bang Theory star writes. "Divorce is terribly sad, painful and incomprehensible for children. It is not something we have decided lightly."

Bieber and Gomez trying to iron out kinks in relationship

THE WORD

Dorothy Robinson
scene@metronews.ca

Justin Bieber and Selena Gomez are actually back together and trying desperately to make their relationship work amid all the public scrutiny, a source close to the pair tells Radar Online. "The problem between them stemmed from Justin texting other girls," the source explains. "Selena is embarrassed by what he did because it makes her look stupid, that he would talk to these other girls, and she is also embarrassed that everyone is so invested in their relationship now because of his actions." And as for their dinner date in L.A. last week that ended with Gomez storming out? "There was no blow-up," the source says. "Selena is just super-embarrassed by all of this attention, and she got upset when they sat down and people were staring and pulling out their cellphones."

Taylor Swift ALL PHOTOS GETTY

Swift flirtations from Taylor and Harry Styles

As rumours emerge that Taylor Swift and One Direction member Harry Styles are dating, new details are coming out about their flirt-filled meeting at an X Factor rehearsal earlier this month. "They lit up when they saw each other," a source tells Us Weekly, adding that the pair spent most of the day together and that Swift "was a puppy dog" with Styles. And after being spotted walking hand-in-hand on set, the boy band star opted for a dramatic exit: "Harry picked her up and carried her to the trailer," the source says.

Kristen Stewart

Craig (eventually) gives Stewart Bond girl blessing

When asked at the Breaking Dawn — Part 2 premiere if she'd be interested in playing a Bond girl, Twilight star Kristen Stewart gave an emphatic, "Yes, hell yeah!" But not so fast, young lady. You have to get by Daniel Craig first. "No, she's in Twilight," Craig says during an interview in Australia with biting disdain in his voice, when asked about the idea. But he quickly laughed off his rancor, clarifying, "I've no problem with Kristen Stewart, I'm being nasty. I'm only saying that because (Breaking Dawn — Part 2) is coming out this weekend. We're in direct competition with them. And I'm sure she'd make a great Bond girl."

Maple Bacon Butter Pizza: Foodie touchdown

Grey Cup snacks. This delicious pizza has the perfect Canadian touch for the big game

Predictably, the Internet abounds with recipes for pizza made with maple-cured bacon. But to truly take it to the next level — and make it uniquely Canadian — maple syrup is involved, as is an ample helping of butter to keep things interesting.

The result is this Maple Bacon Butter Pizza, which is refreshingly simple. A basic crust topped first with mozzarella, then cooked bacon, then more mozzarella and finally dollops of maple compound butter (made by blending softened butter with granulated maple sugar) is all it takes.

1. Heat the oven to 500 F. Lightly coat a baking sheet with cooking spray.

2. In a small bowl, mix together the butter and maple sugar until well blended. Set aside.

3. On a lightly floured surface, carefully roll out the pizza dough to about a 14-inch circle. You may need to use your hands to stretch the

This recipe serves four. MATTHEW MEAD/ THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ingredients

- 3 tbsp butter, softened
- 3 tbsp granulated maple sugar
- 20-oz ball prepared pizza dough, room temperature
- 1 cup grated mozzarella cheese
- 12 oz bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 8-oz ball fresh mozzarella, sliced

dough if rolling alone doesn't work. Transfer the dough to the prepared baking sheet.

4. Sprinkle grated mozzarella cheese evenly over the dough. Top the mozzarella with the bacon, distributing it evenly over the pizza. Arrange the slices of fresh mozzarella over the bacon. Using 2 spoons, scoop and dollop the maple sugar butter evenly over the pizza. The dollops do not need to be spread; they will melt in the oven.

5. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes, or until the crust is puffed and browned and the cheese at the centre of the pizza is lightly browned. Let the pizza rest for 5 minutes before slicing.

LIQUID ASSETS

Time sure flies when you're sniffing, sipping and spitting (well, mostly) to please readers. I should know. This is my 200th Liquid Assets column for Metro.

I'm not the only one acknowledging a major milestone this weekend. On Sunday, The Grey Cup is raising a glass in celebration of a century of guys tossing a football back and forth.

I admit I don't know much about the game. What I do know is whisky, and the anniversary-inspired Gibson's Finest 100th Grey Cup Limited Edition ($29.95 to $33.29) will put an all-Canadian flavour profile (along with a touch of maple goodness) into your glass.

After a few failed attempts to infuse established whiskies from its portfolio with the sweet stuff, Gibson's official Malt Master created a special blend that includes maple syrup as part of the recipe.

The finished spirit is relaxed and soothing with a soft, smoky aroma that releases hints of tropical fruits and caramel. In the mouth, a rich expression of malt is massaged by an undercurrent of vanilla and just a whisper of maple sugar that makes it an ideal whisky to sip on while watching the big game. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS THE COUNTRY. Who's Ready for the Heat?

Well apparently several thousand of you are ready for the Red Hot Chili Peppers, who will take over the MTS Centre Monday. Although a Monday night concert is not ideal, especially a rock concert, the RHCP always do their utmost to wow their beloved and loyal fans. Their latest album, I'm With You, is up for Best Rock album of the Year, so needless to say their new stuff is proving to be pretty good. Tickets are available at Ticketmaster.

Time to get Crafty!

Yup, Christmas has officially arrived in Winnipeg. The best place to start — if you are really keen — is the Signatures Craft Show and Sale which runs all weekend long at the Convention Centre. You will find everything from tree ornaments, handmade soaps, beautiful Christmas glassware and even some wooden toys for the lil' ones. Check out their website for more info, signatures.ca/Winnipeg.

Sing me some Italian

If you have never experienced the Manitoba opera in person, you should. Yes, it is sung in Italian; however the performers are so talented that you do not miss a beat in the plot. Last resort, you can read the projected English translations, so no worries, the Manitoba Opera has you covered. Rigoletto, the latest opera, takes place Saturday, as well as a few other select dates. For tickets call 204-942-7479.

25 Years of Love!

This year marks the 25th anniversary of Winnipeg's Festival of Tree and Lights. There are various ways you can get involved: You can sponsor a wreath, help decorate a tree, or even volunteer. Over the past quarter of a century this event has raised more than $500,000 for local charities, which truly is something to boast about. This year the event runs from Tuesday through Dec. 9 at the Manitoba Hydro Gallery.

Art for Dinner?

On Thursday you have the opportunity to dine at Storm Bistro, then take part in a private tour of Winnipeg Now, the latest art exhibit at the Winnipeg Art Gallery. The dinner is a three course, "exhibit inspired" menu, which is rather intriguing if you ask me. After dinner you get to roam with like-minded art lovers and see what the WAG has to offer. Tickets for non-members are $45 and $40 for members. Need more info? Call 204-786.6641.

DVDs, Blu-rays and box sets — Oh my!

KEITH
CARMAN
For Metro

Whether it's for that special someone or to round out your own collection, Blu-rays and DVDs are always a wise choice come holiday season. Let's face it: Who's about to pass on hours of entertainment from the comfort of the family sofa?

At that, there are a multitude of films, documentaries and television series releases at this time of year. A few options:

Dark Knight Rises (Warner Home Video)

Eight years after his last tussle with The Joker, we find Batman up against a new nemesis. Garnering plenty of acclaim, this action flick's home video release finds the Blu-ray treated to a 1080p transfer with 5.1 DTS-HD Master Audio, an hour's worth of IMAX footage and more. The DVD will feature an anamorphic widescreen presentation, 5.1 Dolby Digital audio, an UltraViolet copy of the film and The Journey of Bruce Wayne featurette.

Ted (Universal)

Easily one of the year's more surprising — if not altogether shocking — movies, Family Guy creator Seth MacFarlane's Ted focuses on a "foul-mouthed, hard-partying teddy bear and his 35-year-old best friend." Starring the likes of Mark Wahlberg, Mila Kunis and Giovanni Ribisi, it's no wonder Ted was No. 1 at the box office. Combining the Blu-ray, DVD, digital and UltraViolet versions along with extras such as a gag reel, deleted scenes, making-of featurettes, a commentary and more, it might be raunchy but it's quite rousing.

Seeking A Friend For The End Of The World (Focus Features)

A touch oddball but entirely endearing, this rom-com starring Steve Carell and Keira Knightley is a perfect reason to pull that loved one closer. Realizing he is alone at the end of the world, Carell searches out his estranged wife with the assistance of a neighbour. Interestingly, her good intentions turn into a rather large monkey wrench.

Bond 50: Celebrating Five Decades of James Bond (MGM)

For the truly dedicated fan, this bold Blu-ray collection

The Simpsons Season 15 (20th Century Fox Home Entertainment)

Need something a little lighter on the brain but no less entertaining? The family known to every corner of the globe issues its 15th season just in time for, well, wasting time. Initially airing circa 2003, this release is packed with 22 episodes over four discs and a plethora of extras including deleted scenes, featurettes and Blu-ray-only extra episodes.

ParaNorman (Alliance)

In this animated feature, a small town is overrun with zombies. It's up to geeky local boy Norman to save everyone. Able to converse with the dead, it's his task to eliminate the hordes of ghosts, witches and the like. Packed with a Blu-ray, DVD and Digital copy — all relayed in 3-D — it's a fun flick for the whole family.

Much cooler than just getting an MP3 gift card

KEITH
CORMAN
For Metro

Downloading is certainly fast and easy, but when it comes to festive times, no credit card-sized gift certificate offering musical megabytes comes close to a tangible CD or box set. It's with this means of piling up presents under the tree that we offer some suggestions for sating melodic enthusiasts.

For most people, folk rock tends to be a rather safe bet and who better to place odds on than Canucks' Great Big Sea? Issuing their XX (Warner) box set just in time for the holidays, the package showcases two albums (Rogue Waves and CBC Key Note) as well as the Meet Great Big Sea DVD, 104-page bound book, calendar, two posters, two lyric sheets, postcard, souvenir laminates and stickers.

For a little more twang, country folk fans might appreciate Toby Keith's latest Hope On The Rocks (Universal). To go the extra mile, try the deluxe edition featuring remixes and live versions of tracks. Overall, it's an album the artist himself wryly described to Billboard Magazine as "the same stuff I usually do." Now there's a sales point.

Tipping one's hat to the essence of soul, chanteuse Bettye LaVette's latest work Thankful N' Thoughtful (ANTI) has kicked up plenty of smoke in its mere two-plus months on the shelves. Then again, with 50 years in the business, LaVette knows her way around a solid tune.

Some other gents with their own aesthetic marvel and lengthy time belting out blues-fuelled ditties, ZZ Top issue their first full-length in nine years. Dubbed La Futura (American), it's packed with that self-proclaimed "Little Ol' Band From Texas" at its finest.

Speaking of finest, national treasure Neil Young assembles his beloved Crazy Horse crew for Psychedellic Pill (Warner), their first onslaught of warble-throated originals in a full-on decade. With nine tracks clocking in at 85 minutes, it's sure to satisfy even the most diehard Young freak.

For something far more upbeat, consider positively charged anthemic rock vocalist Andrew W.K.'s 10th anniversary edition of legendary debut I Get Wet (Century Media). Available in three versions, its features range from a simple double CD to two-album gatefold LP boasting bonus tracks and 20-page full-colour booklet. For devout fans, there's even a 500-copy limited collector's edition.

Those looking to tide over the more anodized music fans on their gift lists would do well to check out metal-lions As I Lay Dying's sixth studio effort Awakened (Metal Blade) as an option. Peaking at No. 11 on the Billboard charts, it clearly hasn't steered headbangers wrong.

Finally, hardcore mainstays Converge shatter all previous expectations via latest Epitaph Records release All We Love We Leave Behind. Thick, pummelling and vicious, it's perfect for any brawny music buff.

AS USUAL, IT'S A TALE OF TWO QUARTERBACKS

CFL EXTRA POINTS
Dan Toth
winnipeg@metronews.ca

Calgary at Toronto, Sunday, 5:30 p.m. (TSN)
It should be no surprise that in a quarterback-driven league, the biggest story heading into the 100th Grey Cup game on Sunday is the remarkable twists of fate experienced by the two starting passers.

Calgary's Kevin Glenn and Toronto's Ricky Ray couldn't have imagined their current status a year ago. Last November, Glenn, entrenched as the starter in Hamilton, had just led his Ticats to a triumph over Montreal and into the East final. Ray, seemingly untouchable as a legend in Edmonton, was expected to play out his career as an Eskimo. Fast-forward to today and Glenn has emerged as the Stampeders' surprising playoff leader and hero heading into the Grey Cup Sunday at Rogers Centre in Toronto. Ray, swapped by then-Eskis GM Eric Tillman for little more than a handful of magic beans, is suddenly tasked with leading the Argos in their first "home" Grey Cup in 20 years.

The trade was so one-sided, some CFL followers still believe the Ray transaction was orchestrated by the league to help the Argos compete for the centennial Grey Cup at home. Conspiracy theorists also suggest the trade was made to appease Argos owner David Braley, who also holds the purse strings in Vancouver and may have saved both teams (and the league) from extinction.

Ray is also expected to stoke the dying embers of CFL enthusiasm in Toronto, where the fan base would apparently prefer to attend a Buffalo Bills pre-season game than cheer on the Argos, North America's oldest football franchise.

While Ray is a former Grey Cup champ as an Eskimo, Glenn's closest brush with the title occurred in the 2007 East final. Despite winning the game, Glenn suffered a broken arm and was sidelined for the championship game.

No matter who wins Sunday, the 2012 Grey Cup champs will be led by a quarterback whose story will dominate the headlines Monday morning.

Season series: The Argos won both matchups this season, 39-36 at home in Week 2 and 22-14 at McMahon. The Week 2 contest in Toronto saw Stamps starter Drew Tate sidelined for the rest of the regular season with a dislocated shoulder. The Argos have won five consecutive games against the Stamps dating back to 2010.

Grey Cup history: This will mark the third Grey Cup meeting between the two franchises. Calgary slipped past Toronto 14-11 in the '71 cup, best remembered for the Leon McQuay fumble. Toronto captured a 36-21 win in the '91 contest at Winnipeg, one of the coldest Grey Cups on record.

Pick: Calgary by 2

CFL a reflection of Canada's culture: Cohon

CFL commissioner Mark Cohon applauds as former Ottawa Rough Rider and three-time Grey Cup champion quarterback Russ Jackson carries the Grey Cup in the House of Commons on Oct. 24 in Ottawa.

From the country's east-west divide to the way we define ourselves as different from the United States, when Canadians look at the culture of the CFL, it's just like looking in a mirror.

For example, Canada's history as a country shaped by immigration is shown in the stories of athletes who came here to play, CFL commissioner Mark Cohon said. "That's the story of Chuck Ealey, one of the best black quarterbacks in NCAA who wasn't drafted to the NFL because of the colour of his skin. He came to Canada and won a Grey Cup with the Tiger-Cats."

Regional divisions and rivalries are true in life and in CFL fandom.

"When you talk about Canada, you talk about the competition between the Western provinces and Ontario, the central provinces. Toronto is the natural city that people across the country want to hate," said Cohon.

The decision to host the 100th Grey Cup game in Toronto was partially a bid to grow the comparatively lacklustre enthusiasm for the game in Ontario, he said.

It won't just be Argos fans at the Rogers Centre on Sunday, and that's the most important thing, said Cohon.

"One of the beauties of the Grey Cup is the people in the stadium all wearing different jerseys. Their affinity is to different teams, but they all get along — and that a reflection of the country as well," he said. "It's also a time where people pause and come together, whether they're in the stadium or watching it on TV. Millions and millions will sit in their living rooms or go to bars and restaurants and be with their friends."

Bomber Matthews named most outstanding rookie

Full circle. Owens' comeback season helps him edge Cornish to take CFL's highest honour

In 2008, Chad Owens was injured and out of football, unsure about his future. On Thursday night, the Toronto Argonauts' speedy receiver was named the CFL's outstanding player.

"Four years ago I had no real idea what the CFL was," said Owens, who accepted the trophy with his nine-year-old son, Chad Jr. "Everything that happened to me prior in my career, it all happened for this moment."

Owens, 30, affectionately dubbed the Flyin' Hawaiian, got the nod over Calgary Stampeders running back Jon Cornish in voting by the Football Reporters of Canada and the eight CFL head coaches. Owens received 41 of the 57 available ballots.

The six-foot, 217-pound Cornish had a record-setting 2012 campaign of his own.

He led the CFL with 1,457 rushing yards, the first Canadian to do so since Ottawa's Orville Lee in 1988. Cornish, 28, also broke Norm Kwong's 56-year-old record for most rushing yards in a season by a Canuck of 1,437.

CFL commissioner Mark Cohon honoured all players who've participated in the league, along with their families, presenting them the Commissioner's Award for making significant contributions to the CFL.

Winnipeg receiver Chris Matthews won the league's top rookie award.

The six-foot-five, 229-pound Matthews received 53 votes. He was Winnipeg's leading receiver as a rookie, sixth overall, with 81 catches for 1,192 yards and seven TDs.

"Winnipeg gave me the chance to showcase my talents and I want to thank them," Matthews said. "But it didn't come easily to me."

"When I first started I was just trying to make the team, everything else kind of just fell into place. This means everything to me."

The other award winners were Jon Cornish (top Canadian), J.C. Sherrit (defensive), Hamilton receiver Chris Williams (special-teams), Lions offensive lineman Jovan Olafioye (lineman), and Montreal receiver Brian Bratton (Tom Pate award, community service).

Quick Six

Stampeders mascot will be on the sidelines

The CFL and Calgary Stampeders have reached a compromise on Quick Six.

The league announced Thursday the Stampeders horse mascot and rider Karyn Drake will be on the sidelines at Rogers Centre on Sunday when Calgary faces the Toronto Argonauts in the 100th Grey Cup.

But Quick Six won't be able to gallop up and down the sidelines when Calgary scores due to a lack of available space and safety concerns.

Drake and Quick Six charge down the sidelines at McMahon Stadium when the Stampeders score a touchdown.

The compromise comes after league and Stampeders officials met to discuss concerns the mascot wouldn't be allowed to make the trip to Toronto.

The Stampeders arrived in Toronto Tuesday to begin preparations for the Grey Cup but Quick Six and Drake remained in Alberta.

"But the CFL is happy to announce that one of Canadian football's fine traditions, Calgary's touchdown horse, will be part of Grey Cup history once again," the league said in a statement.

Six Grey Cup moments to remember

The championship game has created some wild and memorable moments. Here are six that went down in CFL history:

THE CANADIAN PRESS

Photos by The Canadian Press/Torstar News Service/Getty Images/Allsport

2002

Anthony Calvillo hit Ottawa native Pat Woodcock on a record 99-yard TD strike to lead Montreal past Edmonton 25-16 at Commonwealth Stadium. It was the Alouettes' first Grey Cup win since '77 and head coach Don Matthews' record-tying fifth CFL title.

1996

Edmonton receiver Eddie Brown made a sensational catch in snowy conditions against Toronto at Ivor Wynne Stadium. The ball went through Brown's hands and bounced up off his foot. Without missing a step, Brown gained control and went 64 yards for the touchdown. But the Argos won the Snow Bowl by a 43-37 score.

1994

Lui Passaglia's 38-yard field goal with no time showing gave the B.C. Lions a 26-23 win over Baltimore at BC Place. It was the first-ever CFL title game that featured a Canada-U.S. matchup. Passaglia had missed a 37-yard try with 1:02 remaining.

1991

Raghib (Rocket) Ismail had a then-record 87-yard kickoff return for a touchdown to lead Toronto past Calgary 36-21, bringing success to the Argos ownership group that consisted of John Candy, Wayne Gretzky and former L.A. Kings owner Bruce McNall.

Argos quarterback Matt Dunigan played despite a broken collarbone.

1989

Dave Ridgway's 35-yard field goal with two seconds left earned Saskatchewan a wild 43-40 win over Hamilton. Ticats star Tony Champion, who had two touchdowns despite playing with broken ribs, made a brilliant backwards diving grab that tied the score 40-40.

1977

On a hard, icy field at Olympic Stadium, Alouettes players Tony Proudfoot and Wally Buono came up with the idea of using staples on the bottom of the teams' shoes to increase traction. The move worked, as Montreal waltzed past Edmonton 41-6.

DANGER ZONE

CFL. Lions coach makes costly mistake in throwing challenge flag

Jim Schwartz threw a challenge flag when he didn't need to and the Houston Texans made him regret it.

Shayne Graham's 32-yard field goal with 2:21 left in overtime lifted Houston to a 34-31 win over the Detroit Lions on Thursday after their coach broke an NFL rule by attempting to challenge a scoring play.

"Obviously that's a big break in the game for us," Houston coach Gary Kubiak said. "But I think you make your breaks when you work your tail off."

Detroit kicker Jason Hanson had a chance to get Schwartz off the hook, but his 47-yard field-goal attempt on the fifth possession of the extra period hit the right upright.

Quoted

Detroit Lions coach Jim Schwartz

Lions defensive end Kyle Vanden Bosch did, too, on the previous possession when he couldn't intercept a pass from Matt Schaub.

Schwartz threw a red challenge flag when Houston's Justin Forsett scored on an 81-yard touchdown run in the third quarter after two Lions tackled him.

Replays showed Forsett's left knee and elbow hit the turf near midfield, and the automatic review that accompanies all scoring plays probably would have taken the TD off the board.

But NFL rules say that throwing the challenge flag on a scoring play negates the review.

RG3 shines in return to Lone Star State

Robert Griffin III threw for 311 yards and four touchdowns, helping the Washington Redskins beat the Dallas Cowboys 38-31 on Thursday.

The Heisman Trophy winner from Baylor made the Cowboys look like an overmatched college team during the decisive second quarter in Griffin's first pro game in his home state.

He got some help from his receivers, including a leaping grab and long run from Pierre Garcon and some nifty footwork in the end zone by Santana Moss.

Lockout

Hamrlík breaks rank with call for union vote

The first true friction within the NHL Players' Association turned up rather quickly after the NHL had rejected the union's latest proposal.

It was Roman Hamrlík, a 38-year-old defenceman scheduled to earn $3.5 million US, who called out for a vote in a Czech newspaper. Hamrlík is one of a handful of NHLers — like Teemu Selanne and Martin Brodeur — who is going through his third lockout.

"There should be voting between players," Hamrlík reporters in Czech on Wednesday. "If half of players say let's play, then they should sign new CBA. If there is no season he (Donald Fehr) should leave and we will find someone new. Time is our enemy."

Hamrlík was taken to task by other NHLers for breaking ranks, including Erik Cole.

♏ Libra

Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

Disputes of one kind or another are likely today but that's fine. The air has to be cleared every once in a while and now is as good a time as any. As always, your sense of fair play will see you through.

♏ Scorpio

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

Don't let anyone talk you out of what you are planning to do. They may say they are trying to save you from disaster but the truth is they don't want to see you succeed. It's called envy. Push on.

♐ Sagittarius

Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

There is no point in trying to convince a friend that your way of doing things is best, even though it clearly is, because they don't want to believe you. You will have to do it alone and you'll do better that way.

♑ Capricorn

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

You need to sit down and draw up a list of priorities. If you don't, you will waste a great deal of time and energy on matters that are of no real importance. Your time is precious. Don't waste it.

♒ Aquarius

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

Why are you convinced that others want to do you harm? Why do you think you have secret enemies? It's not true. It's just your mind playing tricks on you, so be positive and act as if everyone is your friend.

♓ Pisces

Feb. 20 - March 20

It's time to take action. For too long you have been sitting around planning what you are going to do some day. But that day may never come unless you get out and about and make things happen. Do it now. SALLY BROMPTON
